"After so many years on the system we don't always catch all of the new bells & whistles. I picked up quite a few new items for my bag of tricks - and have a better understanding of a few that I knew existed - but ignored in the past."

Jamie Saks
Customer Service Manager

Increase knowledge through training and educational opportunities

Dancik Training follows a clearly documented methodology, timeline, and implementation plan. It is based upon more than 20 years of experience with companies like yours. Initial training is performed at your designated locations. Dancik compliments its training services with a series of professional seminars at our state-of-the-art Education Center in Cary, NC. These seminars bring together groups of industry peers (such as controllers, sales managers, purchasing agents, and so on) for in-depth training on specific topics including Accounting Best Practices, Sales Management, Advanced Customer Service, and many more.

Our educational opportunities include:

Educational Seminars

Educate your employees on the latest features and proper system usage while networking with other companies currently using the Dancik Enterprise System. Seminars are held at our office in Cary, NC and via the web.

Custom Educational Seminars

Bring a Dancik seminar to your premises. This is an affordable way to train a large group of personnel within your organization on topics of your choice.

Annual System Update Seminar

Learn the latest enhancements and how they benefit your company. This seminar is specifically designed for Operations Managers and IT Managers.

Major Benefits:

- Getting the results-producing training you need.
- Exceptional return on the investment of time and money.
- Learning the latest developments and features as they relate to current market trends.

Our training services include:

Web-Based Training

Train new employees on existing system functionality, or update seasoned employees on new system features. Web-based training is a cost effective way to improve system utilization without incurring travel costs and missed office days.

On-site Training

Benefit from face-to-face training. A Dancik instructor will travel to your location to conduct training on a variety of topics.

Major Benefits:

- Learning valuable short cuts to enable you to maximize your abilities and better utilize your time.
- Learning system setup options, their effect on functionality, and how they may beneficially impact your daily activities.
- Evaluating reporting options to determine which ones would best serve your purpose.
- Providing quick training to new employees via an affordable method.
- Implementing new Dancik features and functions quickly in a more cost efficient manner.
